

Party Set To Salute Controller

Alan Cranston, State Controller, will attend a gala party

ALAN CRANSTON To Campaign Here

to be given in his honor on Friday, Aug. 10, at 8 p.m. at Higgins Brickyard patio, 2217 W. Artesia.

Alan Cranston's wife, Geneva, will be present for her first visit to Torrance. Entertainment will be provided by Rosemary DeCamp Shidler and Dr. Frank Sullivan, and a barbershop quartet will sing some old-time favorites. There will be music, dancing, surprise games, drinks and refreshments with fun for all.

THE PARTY will signal the start of the campaign in Torrance for the re-election of Cranston as State Controller. "Cranston has demonstrated during his term in office that he can combine the talents of a hard-working businessman guarding the public's money and ensuring its wise expenditure with the warmth and friendliness of a personal friend exhibiting humanity to his fellow man," according to David K. Lyman, chairman of the Torrance Committee to Re-elect Cranston.

All residents of Torrance are invited to attend and enjoy the evening with Alan Cranston. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Lyman at 2271 Torrance Blvd. Donation for the evening is $1.50.

Accidents, the Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council reports, are responsible for more deaths among persons 1 to 36 years of age than any other cause.

Latest compilation of figures released by the Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council shows that accidents, in a single year, caused a national economic loss of $14 billion.

OFF TO EUROPE . . . Mr. and Mrs. Al Ortale are shown at Los Angeles International Airport before boarding a jet liner for a trip to Europe. The Torrance Rambler dealer and his wife were awarded the all expense-paid European holiday by American Motors as the result of the high score made by the Ortale dealership in a national Rambler sales contest.

COTA AVENUE ACCIDENT . . . This 1950 model sedan, driven by Susan Clair Elbrecht, 20, of Harbor Hills, Lomita, came to rest against a house at 1312 Cota Ave. about 4:12 p.m. Tuesday after it was involved in a collision with a legally parked car in front of 1221 Cota Ave. The Elbrecht vehicle went over a lawn and through a hedge before hitting the house. No one was injured. (Herald Photo)

... Freeway

Long Beach Freeway was opened two weeks ago.

As the freeway passes through Torrance, it will have exchanges at Artesia Boulevard, Crenshaw Boulevard, Arlington Avenue, and Western Avenue.

THE ELEVATED structure will pass over all of the North Torrance streets, and will contain underpass structures at 166th Street, Prairie Avenue, Yukon Avenue, 182nd Street, in addition to those with interchanges.

Opening of the final link of the Harbor Freeway between 190th Street and Pacific Coast Highway has been scheduled for about the same time, state officials have said.

Sheriff Aero Squad Warns Area Pilots

Sheriff Peter Pitchess yesterday served notice to southland pilots that his Aero Detail has begun a crackdown on low-flying aircraft. Other flight regulations will also be rigidly enforced.

"Los Angeles County has the highest density of air traffic of any county in the nation," Pitchess states. "Unsafe practices in the air endanger the lives and property of scores of innocent persons," he added.

Obituaries

ARNOLD DEHN

Funeral services were held Sunday for Arnold Dehn, 73, of 1522 252nd St., Harbor City, at St. Mathews Lutheran Church. The Rev. Walter Senher of Long Beach officiated.

Mr. Dehn was born in Denmark and came to California when he was 16. He had lived here for a number of years. He was retired.

Survivors include the widow, Cecilia of the home; a sister, Mrs. Preston Hinkston, Nebraska; a brother, Otto of Harbor City; three step-sons, Frank Pischel, Iowa; Kenneth Pischel, Nebraska; and Keith Pischel, Redondo Beach.

Also surviving are a granddaughter and several nieces and nephews.

Interment was at Green Hills Memorial Park.

A check of the records, according to the Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council, shows that three out of five fatal accidents involved only one car. The figures prove most holiday traffic victims meet death at their own hands.

Out of 93,000 persons who died in accidents in the United States in a single year, 27,500 were killed in their own homes, according to the Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council.

TREE CRASHES . . . The light sedan parked on the driveway of the F. E. Willson home at 26247 Ocean View, Lomita, was heavily damaged with the top of a huge pine tree when it toppled onto it Monday evening. Here Willson and his daughter, Mrs. Malcolm D. Dorn, inspect the damage. Mrs. Dorn had just left the area seconds before the tree toppled. Hot wires also downed were cleared quickly by utilities crews at the request of Lennox Sheriff's deputies.
